

AL CORO

The Perfect Bracelet fit

To ensure your AL CORO bracelet fits beautifully, you can easily measure your wrist at home. Our wrist measuring guide will help you find your ideal size quickly and effortlessly.

How to Measure Your Wrist

Measure Your Wrist

Wrap the enclosed wrist measuring strip around your wrist. It should fit snugly without feeling too tight.

Mark the Measurement

Overlap the end of the measuring strip and mark the point where it meets.

Read the Measurement

Place the measuring strip on a flat surface and read your wrist circumference in centimetres.

Find Your Ideal Size

The ideal size depends on your chosen AL CORO bracelet design.

Choosing the Right Size for Your Bracelet

Bracelets with a Clasp

Measure your wrist with a relaxed fit, allowing the bracelet to sit comfortably and move naturally. The measurement corresponds to your desired overall bracelet length.

Stretch Bracelets

Measure your wrist snugly and add 1 cm to ensure a comfortable fit.

Mezzaluna Attrae Bracelets

Measure your wrist comfortably snug, without leaving too much room, to prevent the Attrae elements from slipping out of place. The measurement corresponds to your desired overall bracelet length.

Your Wrist Measuring Guide

Print this page on A4 paper at actual size (100%). Make sure the “Fit to Page” option is disabled in your printer settings.

